1. About Plum Super - National Australia Bank Group Superannuation Fund A (Plan)

You can use this Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) to find what you need to know about your super and how we can help you reach your retirement goals

We've worked with your employer to provide you a super account which gives you great opportunity to grow and protect your wealth.

With Plum Super - National Australia Bank Group Superannuation Fund A (Plan), a part of the MLC Super Fund, you have access to a broad range of investment options, allowing you to customise your investment portfolio. If you haven't chosen an investment option, your super will be invested in NAB Staff MySuper. See Section 5 for details of NAB Staff MySuper and go to nabgsf.com.au/yoursuperfund for the NAB Staff MySuper Product Dashboard.

2. How super works

What you need to know about super

You generally have the choice where your employer makes contributions. If you don't make a choice, your employer will pay contributions into your Plum Super - National Australia Bank Group Superannuation Fund A (Plan) account. It's compulsory for contributions to be made to super for most working Australians. Super is a tax-effective way to save for your retirement—tax concessions and other government benefits can make it one of the best long-term investments you have.

Go online today

You can keep up to date with your super account by going onto nabgsf.com.au

Simply use your Member number and PIN to log in.

Contributing to your super

Regular contributions are a great way to help your super grow. Your employer will make super guarantee contributions (also known as employer contributions), but you can boost your super with other types of contributions, including:

- salary sacrifice
- personal after-tax contributions
- spouse contributions, and
- Government co-contributions.

You can make additional contributions to your account by BPAY[®] or cheque. There are caps on the amount you can contribute to super. If you exceed these caps you may pay additional tax.

[®] Registered to BPAY Pty Ltd ABN 69 079 137 518

Bringing all your super together

Keeping your super in one place can make sense. You can generally transfer any other super accounts you have into your account. Doing this gives you a single view of your money, helps you keep track of your investments, and means you only pay one set of fees. Before consolidating, you should check if there are any exit fees, loss of insurance that's important to you, or any other benefits you wish to keep. You should speak with a financial adviser to make sure it's the right decision for you.

Accessing your super

Super is designed to support you in retirement, so there are restrictions on when you can access it. To access your super, you must meet a condition of release, such as:

- reaching age 65
- reaching your preservation age (between age 55 and 60 depending on your date of birth) and permanently retiring
- reaching your preservation age and starting a transition-to-retirement pension

- becoming permanently incapacitated, or
- having a terminal medical condition.

Once you meet a condition of release, you're able to withdraw your super as a lump sum or transfer your super to a pension account to start an income stream.

There are other circumstances where you may be able to access your super including:

- under the first home super saver scheme
- if you're a temporary resident and you permanently leave Australia once your visa has expired
- severe financial hardship, or
- compassionate grounds.

What happens to your super if you pass away?

Your super and any insurance you hold can be paid to your beneficiaries or estate if you pass away. There are two types of beneficiaries we offer: binding and non-binding. A binding beneficiary nomination, if valid, allows you to decide exactly where your benefit is paid—giving you comfort that your family is protected should something happen to you. With a non-binding nomination, the Trustee will consider your nomination and your personal circumstances before making a decision on where to pay your benefit. If you make an invalid nomination, or no nomination at all, the Trustee will decide where your benefit is paid. You should speak with your financial or legal adviser for more information on estate planning.

You can view the Beneficiary Nomination form available on nabgsf.com.au/yoursuperfund for more information.

The law defines your eligibility to contribute, types of contributions you can make (or others make on your behalf), and limits on contributions, including the maximum amount you can contribute before paying additional tax. It also sets strict limitations on when you can withdraw your super. Generally, you can access your super after you reach your preservation age and permanently cease gainful employment, or if you satisfy another condition of release.

You can generally request your next employer to contribute to the account and keep your super in one place, as long as you maintain a minimum account balance of $5,000.

4. Risks of super

Like any investment, super has risks

Before you invest, there are some things you need to consider, including how much risk you're prepared to accept. This is determined by various factors, including:

- your investment goals
- the savings you'll need to reach your goals
- your age and the time you have to invest
- where your other assets are invested
- the return you may expect from your investments, and
- how comfortable you are with investment risk.

Investment risk

All investments come with some risk. Some investment options will have more risk than others, as it depends on an option's investment strategy and assets.

The value of an investment with a higher level of risk will tend to rise and fall more often and by greater amounts than investments with lower levels of risk, i.e. it's more volatile.

While it may seem confronting, investment risk is a normal part of investing. Without it you may not get the returns you need to reach your investment goals. This is known as the risk/return trade-off.

When choosing your investment option, it's important to understand that:

- its value and returns will vary over time
- options with higher long-term return potential usually have higher levels of short-term risk
- returns aren't guaranteed and you may lose money
- future returns will differ from past returns, and
- your future super savings (including contributions and returns) may not be enough to provide sufficiently for your retirement.

Laws affecting super may change, impacting your retirement savings.

You should read the important information about the risks of investing in the Investment Menu before making a decision. Log in to your account at nabgsf.com.au to find out more.

The material relating to risks may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

6. Fees and costs

This document shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the MLC Super Fund as a whole.

Other fees, such as activity fees, advice fees for personal advice and insurance fees, may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity, advice or insurance chosen by you. Entry fees and exit fees cannot be charged.

Taxes, insurance fees and other costs relating to insurance are set out in another part of this PDS and the Insurance Guide. You should read all the information about fees and other costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

The fees and other costs for NAB Staff MySuper and each investment option are set out below and in the Investment Menu.

All fees are shown inclusive of GST and net of Reduced Input Tax Credits and stamp duty (where applicable). The information in the fees and costs table can be used to compare costs between different superannuation products.

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Please contact us or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

Taxes and tax benefit

A tax benefit may apply to fees charged to your super account. All fees in the fees and costs table in the PDS are before the tax benefit. We charge the fees shown and then pass the tax benefit back to your super account as a credit, which effectively reduces the fees shown by up to 15% pa. For further information on taxes, see the 'How super is taxed' Section of the PDS.

Varying fees

If we vary our fees, fee discounts, or rebates we'll give you at least 30 days' notice of any material increase in fees. This doesn't include change to indirect costs which vary daily with investment costs, and Government taxes and charges.

7. How super is taxed

An overview of tax in super

Tax laws change from time to time, so we recommend you seek advice from a financial adviser or registered tax agent. We're not able to provide financial or tax advice. You can also visit ato.gov.au for more information on how super is taxed.

Tax on contributions

Contributions to your super are taxed differently depending on the type you make. This generally depends on whether it's been made before your income tax has been deducted (before-tax contributions) or from your take-home pay (after-tax contributions).

Before-tax contributions

Known as concessional contributions, including employer, salary sacrifice contributions and any personal contributions you make that you claim as a tax deduction are usually taxed at a rate of 15%. This tax is charged within the Fund and is deducted from your account and paid to the ATO when required or when you leave the Fund.

Additional tax applies for high income earners. Broadly, if your income and total concessional contributions exceed $250,000 in an income year, an additional 15% will be applied to contributions which take you above the $250,000 threshold. This additional tax is levied on you personally by the ATO, but you can elect to have the tax paid from your super account.

Any extra contributions paid by your employer such as fees and premiums are treated as contributions for tax purposes and count towards your concessional contribution cap.

After-tax contributions

Known as non-concessional contributions, include spouse contributions and contributions made by you where no personal income tax deduction has been claimed.

Contributions caps

Contributions made to your account—both before-tax and after-tax—will count towards your contribution caps.

If your total contributions in a year exceed the contribution caps, you may be liable for additional tax on the excess contributions.

In addition to the contribution caps, the amount you have in your 'total superannuation balance' (which includes all your super and pension balances) may limit your ability to make after-tax contributions, claim the government co-contribution and spouse tax offset, and access 'catch up' concessional contributions in the 2019/20 and later years of income with specific conditions applying.

Tax on investment earnings

Investment earnings are taxed at a rate of up to 15%. Tax paid or payable on investment earnings is reflected in the daily unit price for each investment option.

Tax on lump sum withdrawals

Tax-free component¹	Nil.
Taxable component¹	From age 60: Tax free Preservation age² to age 59: Tax-free on first $210,000 (2019/20) (this is a lifetime limit which is indexed annually). Tax is then paid on the remainder up to 17% (including Medicare Levy at 2%). Under preservation age²: Tax of up to 22% (including Medicare Levy at 2%).

A different tax treatment applies to super death benefits paid to your beneficiaries or deceased estate. Other taxes and Government levies may apply from time to time. If applicable, we'll deduct the tax from your account before paying the lump sum.

1. For further information on the distinction between taxable and non-taxable components of your super, go to the ato.gov.au page titled 'How tax applies to your super'.
2. Preservation age is 55 for those born before 1 July 1960 and will gradually increase to 60 depending on your date of birth.

8. Insurance in super

We believe all Australians should be able to protect their family and their future.

Generally, you can apply for a different level or type of insurance or cancel it at any time by logging into your account online or by completing the Insurance form available when you log in.

NAB employee members standard cover

When you join the Plan as an employee member, you will automatically be given standard insurance cover, subject to eligibility. You won't have to fill out any forms and if we do need more information, we'll contact you.

Generally, you'll receive death, Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD) and Income Protection insurance if you're permanently employed.

Death cover provides a lump sum benefit that may be payable in the event of your death or upon diagnosis of a Terminal Illness. A lump sum TPD benefit will be payable if you meet the definition of TPD and satisfy all other applicable criteria. The level of standard death and TPD insurance cover you receive is based on the formula:

$17.5\% \times \text{Fund Salary} \times \text{Future Service to age 60}$.

Standard death and TPD cover is subject to a minimum of 1 x Fund Salary that extends to age 70 (note that TPD cover reduces by 10% pa from age 61).

Fund Salary means your actual annual Total Remuneration Package as advised by NAB.

Future Service is the number of years and complete months from the date of calculation to age 60.

Standard Income Protection cover could provide a monthly benefit of up to 75% of your salary while you are unable to work due to temporary disablement. The benefit is payable for up to two years and cover is provided to age 65.

Spouse members - death cover

Spouse members do not receive standard cover, but can apply for death only cover up to the maximum benefit limit listed in the following table when they join the Plan. This insurance is subject to acceptance by the Insurer.

Maximum benefit limits

The maximum insurance you can apply for is shown below. It includes any existing policy you have and the insurance selected for you.

Ex-employee members

When you leave NAB, you'll generally be able to keep your death and TPD insurance cover in the Plan, subject to a $5,000 minimum account balance. The level of cover transferred will remain at a fixed amount once you cease employment with NAB.

Insurance type	Maximum cover
Death
NAB employee members	Standard cover plus up to $1 million of Extra cover*
Ex-employee members	The amount of cover you hold on the day you ceased employment with NAB plus $1 million of Extra cover
Spouse members	Unlimited
TPD
NAB employee members	Standard cover plus up to $1 million of Extra cover*
Ex-employee member	The amount of cover you hold on the day you ceased employment with NAB plus $1 million of Extra cover
Spouse members	Nil
Income protection
NAB employee members	Standard cover
Ex-employee/Spouse members	Nil

* Extra units of cover must be applied for in units of $50,000.

Bring your insurance together

If you're like many Australians, you've probably got a few super accounts and may have insurance through these as well. You can apply to bring your other insurance together with the insurance you have with us.

If you are a NAB employee member, amounts transferred in and accepted by the Insurer will be converted to the next highest unit value – e.g. if you are successful in transferring in $230,000 of cover, that will be converted to $250,000 (5 units).

Making sure you're eligible

When we provide you with insurance, we assume you're eligible for it. So, we'll automatically deduct premiums from your account, unless you tell us a reason you're not eligible.

When won't a benefit be paid?

Payment of an insured benefit is subject to the terms, conditions and restrictions of the applicable insurance policy. The Insurance Guide sets out these terms, including any terms that may exclude or reduce payment of your insurance benefit.

Inactive Accounts

If your super account hasn't received a contribution or a rollover for a continuous period of 16 months, it's defined as an inactive account and by law we're required to cancel your insurance cover. We'll contact you before this happens and give you the option to retain your cover.

Alternatively, if you wish to keep your insurance cover regardless of whether or not your account is inactive, fill out and return the form Choose to Keep My Insurance Cover available at nabgsf.com.au/insurance

When will your benefits be reduced?

Your Income Protection benefits will be reduced by income you're entitled to from other sources.

Premiums

There are costs associated with insurance. Unless you cancel your Standard insurance cover, premiums will be deducted from your account.

We'll confirm your level of insurance and your premiums paid in your Annual Member Benefits Statement. We calculate premiums based on the type and amount of standard and extra insurance cover and your age.

The table below shows the range of premiums for each $1,000 of cover. Further details on insurance can be found in the Insurance Guide.

Type of cover	Annual cost of cover for each $1,000 sum insured
Death only	$0.21 - $6.69
Death and TPD	$0.30 - $19.97
Income Protection	$1.17 - $30.77

Your premium is included in your Welcome Kit.

You should read the important information about eligibility for and the cancellation of insurance, any applicable conditions and exclusions, the level and type of insurance available, the cost of insurance, and other significant matters in the Insurance Guide. These matters may affect your entitlement to insurance and should be read before deciding if insurance is appropriate. The material relating to insurance may change between the time you read this statement and the day when you acquire the product.

9. How to open an account

Your employer has already opened an account for you—so you don't need to do anything to join.

If you have not chosen another fund, we will open an account for you in Plum Super upon advice from NAB that you have commenced employment. We will confirm this to you in writing.

We encourage you to find out more about your super and tailor your membership. You can find more information and to access our calculators when you log in to nabgsf.com.au

Spouses of members may also join the Plan via the Spouse Contribution facility by completing the Application form. Employees leaving the employment of NAB may also remain in the Plan (subject to a $5,000 minimum). You don't have to do anything to remain in the Plan and take advantage of these valuable benefits.

Contributions we can't process

Any contributions we can't process will be held in an interest bearing trust account. We may retain all or part of the interest earned on this account and the Fund's other bank accounts for the benefit of all members.

Want to change your mind?

If you join the Plan as a spouse member, you can mail, fax or email us to close your account within 14 days of opening it. We may be restricted by law from returning your money directly to you, in which case we'll need to transfer the amount to another super fund nominated by you. To find out more go to moneysmart.gov.au or ato.gov.au. Your account balance will be adjusted for any:

- increase or decrease in the value of your investment
- lump sum payments made to you
- any insurance premium paid
- tax payable, and
- administration costs incurred in establishing or closing your account.

This cooling-off period doesn't apply if you join the Plan as a NAB employee member or if you transact on your account within 14 days.
